Moyes To Raise $20,000

Boy Scouts (Wabash Valley)

Reports on the 1972 summer camping season and action taken on the financial crisis were part of the agenda for the executive board meeting of the Wabash Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to a report issued Thursday.

E. R. Pettebone, Council president, said the executive board has taken on the task of raising $20,000 by the end of the year to balance the Council budget.

He noted that many Scouters, parents of Scouts, and Friends of Scouting already have enrolled this year as sustaining members but that not all were given the opportunity. The current effort will be directed toward those not yet contacted.

"Not everyone knows of our need," Pettebone said, "and we face the additional task of educating our parents and adult volunteers."

Earl L. Brandt, Council Scout Executive, pointed out that the Council receives less than 40 per cent of its funds from the United Way campaigns across the nine county area in the Council's jurisdiction and that more than 60 per cent of the monies needed are contributed by sustaining members or raised through other self-generated programs.

Brandt said "encouraging reports" were presented at the board's meeting Tuesday night by Golby Uhlir, recently appointed camping chairman who noted that the summer camping season and the non-Scout day camp experiment had been successful.

According to Uhlir, both events provided good programs and showed a slight surplus financially. The Camp Krielenstein renovation program started last spring brought the camp up to safety standards and allowed expanded camp use.

He said the project will continue this fall and that plans are underway to staff the camp with specially trained adult volunteers each weekend during fall, winter and spring.

A Council-level camporee is being planned for the weekend of Oct. 6, 7 and 8 at Camp Krielenstein when some 700 Scouts are expected to attend. Scout troops will conduct individual open houses during September for perspective members.

Malcolm Wright, National Jamboree chairman, reported that the Council will send a contingent to the National Jamboree scheduled to take place

Scout Post 9 to Conduct 60th Charter Celebration

Community Affairs File

IS DEC 22 1974

The Boy Scouts of America motto has long been "Be Prepared" and the beneficial results of this instruction will be graphically emphasized during the 60th annual charter celebration of Scout Post 9 of Memorial United Methodist Church when it invites some of the community's most well-known citizens back to their home troop for "a night of remembering."

Institutional Representative George Ives said Scoutmaster Fred Young and his Scouts are making plans for a Feb. 8 anniversary celebration dinner in which former members of the troop post will be invited to attend and many of them will be asked to speak concerning the early days of "this, the oldest continuous (technically) Scout troop in the city."

The technical point relates to a brief period during World War I when Post 9 was not listed as having received a charter, thereby giving "the officially oldest recognition to the Maple Avenue United Methodist Church Troop although Post 9 (formerly homed at the Montrose Methodist Church, 17th and College) was actually organized first."

The Memorial congregation's Scout Committee chairmanned by Dave Kauffman is spearheading the Feb. 8 dinner which will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall by the United Methodist Women's organization.

Executives of the Wabash Valley Boy Scouts will head-quarters will be in hand with John D. Ennis, local businessman, state representative and former member and leader of the troop, will serve as master of ceremonies.

The dinner is open to all families and friends of present Post members, their leaders and executives as well as former troop members, their families, friends and any otherwise interested persons.

Reservations ($2.50 per person) may be made at the church office, 2701 Poplar St., or by contacting Mrs. James Champion, Scout committee member and dinner arrangements planner. Her home address is 2001 Oak St.

Sunday morning, Feb. 9, official presentation of the Post's 60th continuous charter will be made by Scout executives to the Rev. Willard Doyle, pastor of the congregation, and the Rev. Robert P. Coleman, associate pastor and Post chaplain.

The first charter issued to Troop 9 at Montrose came from national BSA headquarters in 1913 to the membership composed of Earl Rusk, Herman Rusk, Emory Wires, Wilbur Wilson, George Smith, Vernon Richard, Murray Lindley, Warren Collins, Hugh Leith, Basil Bennett and Ralph Williamson.

According to a Troop history compiled and printed in 1955 under the Montrose pastorate leadership of the Rev. C. L. Loveland (now of Paris, Ill.) "there was considerable rivalry at a Sugar Creek and Forest Park (North Terre Haute) camping and hiking."

The rivalry was listed between Troop 9 and Troop 3 of First Methodist Church at 7th and Poplar St. (later known as Methodist Temple and now located south on Highway 41) and "Troop 7 of Washington Avenue M. E. Church under Scoutmaster Eli Rutherford." "Rev. Bennington" was listed as Troop 9's first Scoutmaster.

Familiar names that appear in the historical record in the 1913-55 years include Maynard Wheeler, Maynard Spear, Irving Heath, Herschel Rector, Paul Auscherman, Paul Haas, Emerson Biggs, Herman McMasters, Howard Lacey, Harry Jarrett, Lynn Thomas, Foster King, Leonard Tichenor, Walter Schultz, Paul Sheldon, Arthur Webster, William Lindholm, Frederick York, Richard Volpert, Allen Lewis, Frank Riddle, Paul Gemmecke, Alexander Cash, Kenneth Biggs, Howard Dawdeen, Thomas Mosier, James Stitch, James Curry, Paul Bennett, Art Evans, William Tichenor, Paul Jackson, Joe Beddow, Willard Fouts, Jimmy Caldwell, Frank McGlone, Edward Conley, Wayne Rush, Eugene Callahan, Charles Kearns, Paul Benning Jr., Robert Rhodes, Robert Fry, James Jackson, Frank Blackford, Claude Curry, and Wayne Roberts.

The latter names were registered as new Scouts in 1942, the first full year of the United States' involvement in World War II.

The Troop has recorded many honors during its history, including many Eagle Scout achievements such as a Gold Medal won by Harold Jackson during 1916 or 1917 for saving the life of a drowning woman.

"He distinguished himself also in the field of First Aid by being member of an emergency group of doctors and nurses who were sent by a special train to the scene of a cyclone over at Mattoon, Ill.," according to the history.

In the post World War II years, the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Follett, 135 Hamilton Dr., Deming Woods, were selected to pose for internationally prominent Saturday Evening Post artist Norman Rockwell for the annual Boy Scout Calendar picture.

The three sons are Russell T. Follett Jr. of 662 Ohio St., Richard L. Follett of 1915 S. 31st St. and C. Robert Follett of 35 Circle Drive.

Among the many Scoutmasters was William Rector of 2211 Deming St., current Memorial church and Terre Haute District denominational treasurer. He led the Troop from May 1936 through the summer of 1942 and will be among the featured speakers at the forthcoming dinner.

Scout Council Okays Organizational Plan

6 DEC 18 1974

S DEC 18 1974

By GLADYS SELTZER
Star Staff Writer

Wabash Valley Boy Scout Council at its annual meeting Tuesday night approved a new organization plan emphasizing county structure with professional staff related to program rather than geographic areas.

The plan, presented by John Thomas of Brazil, vice president for administration, was one of the important reports of the meeting at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology for voting members of the Council and their wives or husbands.

The Council meeting agenda included election of officers and naming of new board members to fill vacancies created by retirement from the board of other members.

William Long, Greencastle, was re-elected Council president. Other officers re-elected were Mrs. Marcella Guthrie, vice president for Club Scouting; Robert Pease, vice president for Scouting; John Thomas, Brazil, vice president for administration, and James Whalen, vice president for relationships.

Mrs. Susie Dewey was elected vice president for Exploring and James Woodard, Seelyville, treasurer.

In a separate session following the meeting, the Council's executive board voted to further reduce the Council's operating budget. The step was taken in order to "assure fiscal responsibility for 1975," District Scout Executive Earl L. Brandt said.

In comment about the Council budget, the Scout Executive told The Star that "we have added annually to our operating deficit for several years and at one point we thought we had this problem licked. However, we found we didn't. So the cutback was voted by the executive board."

Brandt added that the income for 1974 from the United Way and contributions "did not meet the operating needs."

"With the United Way allocation to be less than anticipated for 1975, and with our past experience with contributions, we are basing our 1975 budget on what we know will come from the United Way, plus what we know we can raise ourselves from parents and friends of Scouting," he said.

million County, and Bob Weise, Bridgeton, for Parke County.

Also, Dan Rattray, Greencastle, for Putnam County; Thomas for Clay County; Kenneth Powell, Sullivan, for Sullivan County, and Dale McKee, Terre Haute, for Vigo County. A chairman for Edgar County, Illinois, will be named. The chairmen were elected by the Districts, Brandt said.

The new board members named to the Council were Michael Austin, Col. Frank Hottinger of the Indiana Air National Guard, Lee Roads, Todd Rockstrom and Kenneth Lincoln, all from Terre Haute; James McKinley, Newport, and Keith Price, Robinson, Ill.

He pointed out that "although the new organization plan was brought about from economic necessity," the plan "has a plus factor in that hopefully it will strengthen county organization."

The new organization plan, according to Brandt, allows him to distribute professional services in a fair way "... we can no longer afford field service as we have known it in the past, either in terms of money or time."

The organization plan will provide for each of the nine counties in the Council to have its own chairman who would be a member of the executive board. The chairman will select five key Scouters for his team in capacities of Cub Scout Commissioner, a Scout Commissioner, an exploring chairman, a finance chairman and a relationships chairman. Each would structure his or her own group as needed.

District designation would be retained and District leadership designated from among the county chairmen so that coordination of counties on events and activities could be facilitated if desired.

County committee chairmen will be Dr. Sam Deahl, Marshall, for Clark County, Ill.; Don Winter, Palestine, for Crawford County, Ill.; Don Marshall, Clinton, for Ver-

Peabody Coal
Gives 316 Acres
To Boy Scouts
8-16-70

Peabody Coal Company will present 316 acres of land and water, near Fowler Park, to the Wabash Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, at an informal ceremony to be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Aug. 19.

Donald Foltz, chairman of the Scouts' Long-Range Planning Committee, made final arrangements for the deed presentation. He said that several executives of the Scout Council and Peabody Coal Company plan to attend the ceremony to be held on the Scout site east on the Fowler Park road.

"It is a distinct pleasure for Peabody Coal Company to present this land and water to such a wonderful organization as the Boy Scouts of America which we know will be used to afford better outdoor activities for these young men of our nation," said Lester Shepherd, assistant director of land acquisition of the coal company's Eastern Division.

The land will be used for activities such as overnight camping, hiking, nature study and other related outdoor activities to better acquaint Scouts with conservation. All districts of the Wabash Valley Council will use this large tract of land. The council includes counties of Parke, Putnam, Vigo Clay and Sullivan in Indiana and Edgar, Clark and Crawford counties in Illinois.

Shel Hannig, of Terre Haute, president of the Wabash Valley Council, said "we are extremely grateful to the Peabody Coal Company for this tremendous contribution and for this great confidence in the wise use of this property by the Boy Scouts of America."

"An investment in the boys of the Wabash Valley area is an investment that is certain to appreciate in value year after year. Through this confidence and trust in Boy Scouting, the Peabody Coal Company is visibly enforcing its commitment to insure the growth and success of this area by endowing the future of our greatest resource — the youthful leaders of an even better world of the future."

The public is invited to the ceremony, which can be reached by following the signs to Fowler Park from U. S 41 south of here.

Cotton Named
School Night
Scout Chairman

Boy Scout Organization-Extension Chairman, William Brown, of Public Service Indiana, has announced that Vigo County School Corporation Superintendent, Kenneth Cotton, will serve as Chairman for a nine-county "School Night to Join Scouting" program to be conducted on Thursday evening, September 24th.

Objective of the program is to conduct an informational and enrollment program in each public and parochial elementary and junior high school in the following counties: Vigo, Sullivan, Clay, Vermillion Parke, and Putnam Counties in Indiana, and Clark, Edgar and Crawford Counties in Illinois. The September 24th "School Night" program will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. and will enable boys and parents to learn about Cub Scouting and Boy Scouting, and to join a local Scout unit if they desire.

School Night to Join Scouting on Thursday evening September 24th, is a state wide effort to give more boys the opportunity to take part in Boy Scouting's program of character education, citizenship training, and physical and mental fitness.

Wabash Valley Council President, Shel Hannig stated that a special "briefing meeting", under the leadership of William Brown and Kenneth Cotton, will be held for school leaders and adult Scouters, at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, August 19, 1970 in the Boy Scout Center, 501 South 25th, Terre Haute.

Purpose of this meeting will be to provide advance information and materials for the "School Night to Join Scouting" program which will be conducted in approximately 80 schools.

SKILL-O-RAMA NEW FEATURE OF SCOUT FAIR

A new and different event is the Skill-o-rama, an outdoor show composed of a great variety of different skills and demonstrations. Troops who do things well will have a chance to really "strut their stuff" and show off their talents and abilities. The Skill-o-rama is to the Scout Fair what the side show is to the circus - all color, action, motion and fun.

Units having booths may also enter the Skill-o-rama, and, in some cases, the activity in the Skill-o-rama may be a carry-over from the booth display. As an example, the troop building model rockets or airplanes will not be able to fly them in the booth, but they can launch them during the Skill-o-rama.

The Skill-o-rama will take place from 6:00 to 8:00 pm. between the closing of the booth show and the evening pageant. We have a good selection of activities registered for this event, but not nearly enough of them to fill the area. Let us know what you would like to show off.

TYPICAL BOOTH

Mothers To Operate Trading Post

The Mother's Federation will again operate their Trading Post and we urge every member and every visitor to patronize their booth for refreshments and meals.

IT'S A GOOD DEAL....

In the first place, you can't eat any cheaper anywhere, secondly, you can't get any better food...it's all home-cooked, and thirdly, all of their profit will go into some fine new equipment for camp.

All mothers are invited to take part in this activity, whether your troop has a mother's club or not...and if you don't have a mother's club and want some help in getting one organized, the Federation will help you to do it.

Call Mrs. John Copra, H 7013 in Terre Haute, or drop a word to your Scout Service Center.

CUB SHOW REALLY MOVING

We might say that the Cub show is moving forward on toe-heel and canoe-steps. All Cubmasters and Den Mothers received detailed instructions on indian dance steps last week - and if you listen intently you should hear the beat of tom-toms in every neighborhood. One of the things that added so much to last years show was the beautiful costuming of the Cub leaders as well as the boys and we certainly want to urge a continuance of this practice.

Bobby Smith and Bob Wiemuth have attended every roundtable, and will meet with Cub leaders when and as needed for information, help and instructions.

ATTACK ON FT. HARRISON TO HIGHLITE PAGEANT

The highlight of the pageant will be a reenactment of the Indian attack and attempted burning of Fort Harrison. We will need Colonial soldiers by the dozens - and Indians by the hundreds for this spectacular so it looks as though every boy who wants to be in the pageant will have an opportunity. There will be one rehearsal scheduled for an evening preceding the 15th, probably on Friday May 14th, but all participants will be notified.

The climax of the show will, we hope, include every Cub, Scout and Explorer in the council, with every troop, pack and post carrying their unit flag and their American flag. As the boys march in, a display of fireworks will form a backdrop for this impressive closing ceremony. Nothing we can do will show the size and strength of Scouting to a greater advantage.

On April 25, the Vigo Rock and Gem Club, Inc., will sponsor a display of minerals, rocks, lapidary work, silver jewelry, Indian artifacts, and shell collections. This show will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. in the ballroom of the Elks downtown club on North Seventh Street adjacent to ISU campus. This will be the first show of this organization which is now four years old. Many of the members have outstanding materials that they have developed and collected as part of their hobby. There will be displays of fine jade and faceted gems. There is no charge for admission, and no donation is expected. It is put on explicitly for the sharing of information.

We think scouts, science teachers, and hobbyists will be interested in seeing the total collection. It will be a first for Terre Haute.

Work days are being held at Camp Krietenstein almost every Saturday. If you have the time, any help that you may be able to give would be greatly appreciated. Call the
